Mitel TeleCollaboration Solution

The costs of business travel, including expenses, loss of productivity, and wear-and-tear on the environment, are escalating. Bringing people together geographically is no longer the only answer. The Mitel TeleCollaboration Solution combines immersive high-definition (HD) video conferencing with integrated collaboration in a “just like being there” telecollaboration environment that rivals face-to-face meetings. Launching a telecollaboration meeting or adding a new participant is as simple as making a phone call. Remote participants appear lifelike and life-size on large monitors across the table from you. Enhanced telecollaboration provides a high-definition collaboration environment where people can share and work together on documents, files, and videos.

Mitel TeleCollaboration Solution delivers real benefits

- Simple to use. Makes launching a telecollaboration session as easy as making a phone call with the simple, intuitive interface.
- Natural communications. HD for video and collaboration materials, and high-fidelity audio lip-synching provide an immersive, natural meeting experience.
- More tolerance, less bandwidth. Uses less bandwidth and has a unique tolerance to network interruptions or peaks.
- Savings. Reduces costs of business travel, lowers cost of ownership and usage costs.
- Flexible deployment. Can be set up where you need it most (in an office or a meeting room).

Mitel TotalSolution Program

Staying competitive and connected in today’s “always on” marketplace requires the latest in communications. But keeping up with software upgrades, hardware enhancements, and lightning-fast technological changes can be a time-consuming – and costly – cost of doing business. How do you ensure the system you buy or lease today won’t be obsolete tomorrow?

By outsourcing your telecommunications needs with Mitel’s TotalSolution Program, you can minimize the risks and responsibilities associated with ownership and operation of today’s advanced systems while maximizing your communications investment.

Whether purchasing or leasing a system, it’s important to consider all the costs to operate it, not just the purchase price. In many cases, these costs can ultimately equal or exceed the original acquisition cost. With the TotalSolution Program, you know exactly what it will cost to maintain and operate your system. These costs remain fixed for three years, ensuring your investment is protected. So instead of micro-managing your communications, you can focus your attention on running your business, secure in the knowledge that your requirements for an effective telecommunications system are being met, both now and in the future.

Just Like Being There
